Babson Discusses Roads

(Exclusive NEWS Feature)

There are nearly 49,000,000 registered vehicles on our roads. Better than 8,000,000—or about one-sixth—are trucks. Spot checks in some states reveal that about 10% are overloaded. And overloaded trucks are ruining our roads faster than we can build them.

The Evidence

The most significant evidence yet gathered to substantiate this fact comes from the tests sponsored by the Inter-Regional Council on Transportation and made on a mile stretch of two-lane concrete highway in Maryland. Various test loads of 22,400 and 44,800 pounds were run. The 22,400 loads damaged 28% of the concrete sections; while the 44,800 pound loads damaged 96% of the concrete slabs! If this first fairly comprehensive test gives insight into what future tests will reveal, then it becomes clear that trucks are not bearing their share of the burden in maintaining our roads.

I should like to see a similar test made of pleasure vehicles to see how fast they pound our roads to pieces. Should the evidence collected build a case against the trucker, then he should be taxed in proportion to the rate he wears out the roads. Further, since some trucks will overload until caught, on the basis that "only the big loads are pay loads," then a careful check system will need to be established.

Taxes vs. Tolls

I cannot deny the fact that it is a pleasure to drive the 327 miles from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia on a super-highway. Yet, I resent, in principle, the idea of having to pay a toll on top of a tax. With tolls currently averaging from 1 to 1½ cents a mile, this is simply adding an additional tax of 15 to 20 cents a gallon. I wonder how many motorists ever stopped to consider the problem in this fashion. What would be your reaction should the price of gasoline at your favorite pump be hiked from 28 cents to 45 cents per gallon?

Apparently, with our roads being pounded to pieces at a fast clip, present funds are wholly inadequate both to maintain old roads and build modern express ways. Added to this is the fact that to insure a fair degree of financial success, a toll road must have some kind of dangerous monopoly. Pressure might be brought by bondholders to discourage modernization of parallel routes. Is this principle of highway monopoly in the public interest?

All Candidates Asked To File By 5:00 Monday

With ninety seats in the membership of the Arlington Town Meeting to be filled at the March election, and 93 papers taken out by applicants but not all filed, it appears that the contest between candidates will not be heavy. In many of the precincts there will be no contest at all, unfortunate in the light of democratic procedure.

In Precinct 1 there are 5 openings for 3 years each and one for one year. Four application papers have been taken out for 3 year terms. In Precinct 2, with 7 openings for 3 years, 6 persons have applied for election papers.

The figures for the other precincts are as follows:

Pct.	3 yr. terms	1 yr. terms	Papers out

The closing date for the filing of application papers is Monday, January 28, and Town Clerk James Golden urges all persons who have taken out papers to file them before 5:00 Monday.

JOIN THE MARCH OF DIMES

THE NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS - FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, FOUNDER

MOTHERS MARCH ON POLIO FOR ONE HOUR NEXT WEEK

A Mothers' March On Polio, 1000 mothers strong, will take place here on Thursday night of next week from 7:00 to 8:00. Details of the "march" were ironed out by a capacity crowd of volunteers in Library Hall Sunday afternoon, with the group being addressed by Mrs. Harriet Griswold of Belmont, who has had many contacts with persons with polio.

During the "march" the 1000 mothers will call at all homes in Arlington that have their porch lights turned on, the lights being an indication that the residents therein wish to contribute to the current March of Dimes campaign. Campaign headquarters ask that all persons who wish to aid the drive be sure their porch lights are on. In this way, persons who already have contributed all they wish to give, or persons who do not desire to have the volunteers stop, will not be disturbed. Such a campaign held for a one-hour period last year, with 14 inches of snow, a six degree temperature, and only one-third to one-half of the volunteers able to get out—netted contributions of $3,163.50.

Arlington has 29 polio victims, 27 of whom are children. Of the 29 cases, 11 were new cases in 1951. The amount raised last year was $7164, but the expenditures for the year were about $9400. The expenses on the individual cases varied from $225 for a single clinic treatment to $2,399.75. One case is now costing the Infantile Paralysis Foundation $300 a week, but the identity of all individuals is carefully concealed so that the victims are caused no embarrassment. The main goal of the local chapter of the Foundation is to put Arlington on a self-supporting basis.

"So," says Chairman Donald Brennan, "we would much appreciate having Arlington leave its porch lights on next Thursday evening. One of the slogans we in polio headquarters hear is this: 'No man stands so straight as when he helps to help a child.'"

Mystic Valley Parkway Topic At State House

On January 30 at 10:30 a.m. before the Committee of Metro-politan Affairs at the State House, there will be public hearings on several bills calling for improvements along the Mystic Valley Parkway in Arlington and Medford.

Three of these bills were filed by Representative Henry E. Keenan and call for improvements at Mystic Lake and along the Mystic River. Bill No. 1-A, calling for the ripparding of the shores of the lake and the resultant endang-gering of the roadway along Mystic Lake. The second bill calls for the grading and landscaping of the area along the Mystic River in Arlington and Medford from the Medford Street Bridge to Alewife Brook. The third bill calls for the erection of safety fence along the Mystic River in Arlington and Medford.

Those interested in these improvements are urged by Mr. Keenan to attend the public hearing and voice their opinions.

Building permits for the week ending January 11 totaled $35,000 and for the past week $1520. The total for December was $708,750, which included the cost of the new housing project.

World-Famous Doctor To Speak At Woman's Club This Evening

Dr. Clair E. Turner of Arlington, a consultant to the United Nations World Health Organization and to UNESCO, will be the principal speaker at the meeting of the Arlington Woman's Club tonight. Prominent for his work in the field of health education, he has made several trips to the Middle East in the interest of public health programs in those countries. His experiences in some of the more backward areas are extremely interesting.

Dr. Turner is a former member of the faculty of MIT, and has been associated with the University of California as visiting professor of health education. He was Chief Health Education Officer for the Institute of Inter-American Affairs during World War II, visiting various South American countries and initiating health education programs. Previously he worked with the Nationalist Government in China and was instrumental in organizing the first National Health Education Conference in that country. At present much of his work is with the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, strengthening relationships between school systems and the various activities of the Foundation.

He has lectured on the subject of health education in many countries and is author of several books on health subjects. He is a Fellow of the American Public Health Association, American Academy of Arts and Sciences, American Academy of Physical Education, and the American School Health Association, past president of the Society of Public Health Educators, and chairman of the newly-formed International Union for Health Education of the Public, which held its first meeting in Paris last May.

Controversial Issue Will Be Discussed

A widely-discussed subject will be aired at the Methodist Mass Meeting for Laymen and Ministers of the New England Conference to be held Saturday, February 2 at Epworth Methodist Church, Worcester. Bishop John Wesley Lord and speaker Paul F. Douglass will speak on "The Vatican Appointment."

Food, supper reservations and transportation to this event, Methodists are asked to contact their lay leaders or pastors.

Local Naval Airman In Crack Transport Squad

Winning flying safety trophies is as easy as bacon and eggs for breakfast to John M. McCaffery, airman USN and son of Matthew McCaffery of 41 Pine Street. He is now flying Korean airlift routes to and from the Far East with Transport Squadron 8. The squadron is based at Hickam Air Force Base, Honolulu.

Of the seven awards in the past 21 months by the Pacific Division, Military Air Transport Service, Transport Squadron 8 has won five, and McCaffery had a hand in winning them.

Squadron 8, famed for its record-breaking activities in the Berlin Airlift of 1948-49, flew a total of 6,996 hours during July, August and September, last year without an accident.

The squadron flies Douglas R50 Skyraiders from the West Coast through Hickam, Johnston Island, Kwajalein, and Guam to Tokyo. They carry essential material and military personnel on the outward trip and on their return, carry combat casualties and military patients from Korea en route to hospitals near their homes on the mainland.

Chamber Of Commerce Votes Business Census

It was voted at a directors' meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening to take a census of the businesses of the town, listing and classifying under such categories as would be useful to the Chamber and to the businessmen themselves.

"It often occurs," said a spokesman for the Chamber, "that we receive inquiries from outside of Arlington regarding local hardware, florists, clothing stores, etc., and without adequate statistics it is sometimes difficult to answer them." Jesse M. Hutchinson was named chairman of the business census committee.

Technique of Jury Duty Taught At League of Women Voters' Trial

If, tomorrow, the Selectmen should draw your name out of the hat for jury service, would you know what is expected of you? Probably not, if you are like almost everybody else.

Because of this general lack of information on the part of the public, the League of Women Voters of Arlington is offering, admission free, a School for Jurors. It will be in the form of a mock trial to be held on the evening of January 30 at 8 o'clock in Junior High East. All men, women, and students are cordially invited to attend.

To conduct the trial, the League has secured Judge Lawrence Brooks, presiding justice of the First District Court of eastern Massachusetts. Taking the part of the sheriff will be the sheriff of Middlesex County, Howard W. Fitzpatrick. The clerk will be Charles T. Hughes of the East Cambridge Court, and the court stenographer, Mr. Philip Burt.

Although the trial, which will concern a fictitious traffic accident—will be correct in procedure in every detail, it will also offer excellent entertainment concerning, as it does, a suit brought by a woman driver against a taxi driver whom she accuses of ramming the rear of her car at a traffic light.

Mrs. Richard Uhle of 25 Grandview Road will play the part of the plaintiff, and the defendant will be impersonated by David Ashton. The lawyers in the case will be Town Counsel Russell T. Hamlet and Attorney John O. Parker of the Planning Board. Testifying for and against the plaintiff will be Dr. David Gersh and Dr. Richard J. Moran. Mrs. Harold B. Wood will take the part of the nurse in the case.

Mrs. Donald Pettie of Hillsdale Road, chairman of the Voters' Service Committee of the League, is in charge of all arrangements for the School for Jurors. Members of her committee are Mrs. James Daily, Mrs. Hugo DeFrisch, Mrs. John B. Fox, Mrs. Chester Ginder, Mrs. Frederick Glynn, Mrs. Norris Hoyt, Mrs. Herbert Knight, Mrs. Henry Lutz, Mrs. Andrew Magnus, Mrs. Harry Magnusson, Mrs. Ernest Marchi, Mrs. Malcolm Masters, Mrs. Glen Owens, Mrs. John Sampson, Mrs. Robert J. Strong, Jr., Mrs. Gordon Thompson, and Mrs. Milton Webb.

In addition to his work on the bench, Judge Brooks is serving or has served with many organizations, including the Foreign Policy Assn., the International Friendship League, the Community Chest and Council, Middlesex National Bank and the American Unitarian Assn.

POLICE CHIEF, PRINCIPAL ON YOUTH WEEK PROGRAM

Beginning with Sunday morning services, many churches in Arlington will mark the start of Youth Sunday and Youth Week. Many churches, as a glance at the church calendars will show, are having the young people of the town take over, delivering the prayers, reading the Scriptures, giving the sermons. One church which is going all out with the idea is Trinity Baptist. Its week-long program includes a banquet, panel discussions, and a mass meeting. Chief of Police Archie Bullock and High School Principal Raymond Morrill are two of those appearing before the youth in one of the panel discussions.

This is what Trinity has scheduled:

Sunday Morning
"Denominational Youth Sunday." Rev. Williamson assisted by the Youth of Trinity.

Sunday Evening
Service—7:30 P.M.
Film, "So You're Going in the Service." Panel discussion. Panel chairman: Rev. Williamson. Members of panel: Paul Constantine, Earl Moore, Edward Primmer, David Hutchinson.

Tuesday, January 29
"Call to Civic Responsibility." Panel chairman: Rev. Wilbur Ziegler of Methodist Church of Saugus. Members of panel: Chief of Police Archie Bullock of Arlington, Principal of Arlington High School Mr. Raymond Morrill, representatives of Anti-defamation League, Mr. Paul Gleason.

Thursday, January 31
"Call to Dedication." Individual dedication service, baptism, and written pledges, led by Rev. Williamson and Paul Gleason.

Saturday, February 2
"Call to Fellowship." Youth banquet (sponsored by the church). Fellowship.

Sunday, February 3
"Interdenominational Youth Sunday." Mr. Gleason will have charge of the morning worship service and will be assisted by the youth of the church. Mr. Gleason will preach. Rev. Williamson will welcome new members and will have charge of the Communion Service.

Sunday Evening
"The Call in Arlington." There will be a mass youth meeting at Park Avenue Congregational Church. Donald Smith is chairman of the evening program.

On Denominational Youth Sunday, stress will be placed on the understanding by youth of their own creeds. On Interdenominational Youth Sunday, emphasis will be on the unity of all youth and on respect for the religious beliefs of others.

It has been learned by The News that, due to an engagement made previously by Chief Bullock, he will not be able to participate in the Trinity Church Youth Week program. However, he will delegate his duty of the evening, which he would have enjoyed, he said, to Sgt. George Fitzgibbons, who is an inspector and is especially active in juvenile matters.

Former Arlington Girl Is Married in N.Y.C.

On Saturday, January 12 at 2:00 p.m. Miss Barbara Virginia Doe of New York City, formerly of Arlington, was married to Philip Becker Loring, Jr. of Clarence, N.Y. The ceremony was performed at the Church of St. Francis of Assisi, New York City. The bride was graduated from Simmons College in 1947, and has been employed as a children's librarian in the Brooklyn Public Library. Mr. Loring, a graduate of Rose Polytechnical Institute, class of 1946, is employed by the California-Texas Oil Company of New York.

Miss Doe was given in marriage by her brother First Lieutenant William W. Doe, U. S. Air Force. The matron of honor was the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. William Doe of Burlington, Vermont, and the best man was John I. McCarthy of Baltimore, Maryland.

The bride wore a ballerina-length gown of champagne nylon tulle and imported Chantilly lace. She carried cascade bouquet of orchids and ivy. The matron of honor wore a ballerina-length gown of lipstick red and carried white lilies and sweet peas with ivy.

A reception was held in the Vanderbilt suite of Hotel Roosevelt, New York City.

After completing their honeymoon at Mont Tremblant, Canada, the couple will reside at 50 Orange St., Brooklyn Heights, New York.

TO HELP AND HAVE FUN VOLUNTEER AT SYMMES

Volunteers for one morning or afternoon a week are needed at the Symmes Arlington Hospital. The work is pleasant, the duties being to arrange flowers, refill water bottles, take light refreshments to patients, etc.—chores which take the time of already-over-worked nurses. A receptionist is needed during the afternoon to pass out visiting cards and direct visitors.

"There is great personal satisfaction in doing this type of service if you can spare a few hours a week," says Mrs. Thomas J. McCoubrey, 37 Wellington Street, who is in charge of volunteer workers.

Newly Wed Local Girl Will Live in Alabama

White snapdragons and holly formed the chancel background for a candlelight wedding at St. John's Episcopal Church on Saturday, December 29 when Dorothy Amelia Bergstrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bergstrom, became the bride of Stanley Trowbridge Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Wood of Needham. Tall tapers entwined with similia lined the main aisle, with candles also lighting the chancel.

Rev. Halsey I. Andrews officiated at the double ring ceremony, and a reception for 300 guests followed at the "Old Belfry Club" in Lexington.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown fashioned of ivory satin with a full train, long pointed sleeves, and a yoke with stand-up collar of lace. Her fingertip veil was caught to a small hat of satin outlined with orange blossoms and seed pearls. Her bridal bouquet was a cascade of white snapdragons, white carnations, ivy, and holly.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Edith Burns of Arlington, attended as matron of honor, wearing a ballerina-length gown of shrimp net over taffeta. The bridesmaids, Miss Margery Martin and Miss Mary O'Connor of Arlington, were similarly gowned in green. They carried white snapdragons, carnations, and ivy tied with white satin ribbons. Identically gowned and carrying a wreath of white carnations was the little flower girl, Jane Marie Wharton.

David Wentworth Wood of Schenectady, N. Y. was best man for his brother. The ushers were Frank S. Treco and Alfred E. Gray, Jr., both of Cleveland, Ohio; Carl O. Bergstrom, brother of the bride; and David E. Thompson of Needham.

Mrs. Bergstrom, mother of the bride, was gowned in blue lace with navy accessories and a corsage of pink camellias. Mrs. Wood, mother of the bridegroom, wore pink and red camellias on her blue-grey taffeta gown.

A buffet supper was served at the reception and an orchestra provided music. Mr. Wood and his bride left for a wedding trip to the Southern states, and will make their home in Alabama.

Mrs. Wood is a graduate of Arlington High School, Boston University, and Burdett College.

Registration Necessary By All Who Would Vote

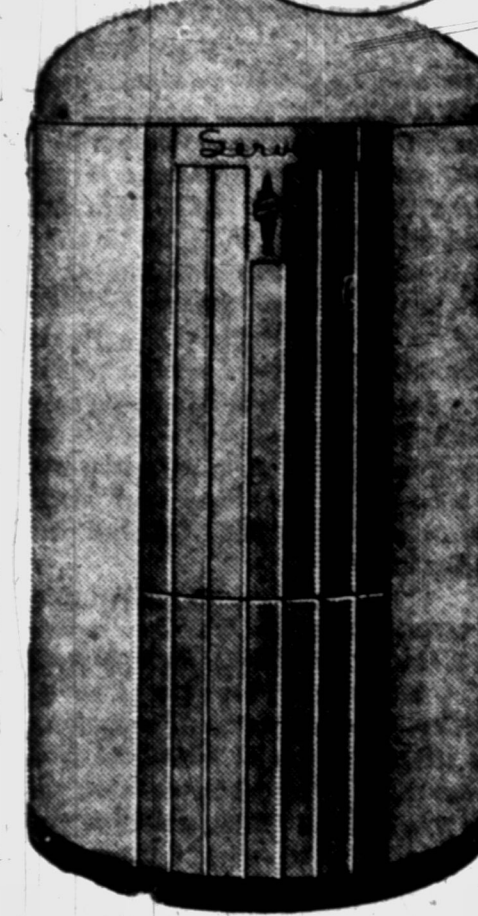

James J. Golden this week called special attention to the fact that all persons in Arlington who have not already registered must do so by February 12 in order to be included on the town voting list.

A list of the registration places which will be open, together with their hours, is given on page 1 in an official notice of the Town of Arlington.

THE FIRST STEP IN OUR CONVERSION TO NATURAL GAS HAS BEEN COMPLETED

We have visited your homes and places of business and have done what work could be done on your gas appliances in advance of the actual turn-in of Natural Gas.

In addition, we have learned a great deal about your appliances, and have been given the opportunity to discuss the subject of Natural Gas with some of you. It was a big job, but one that we believe was very much worthwhile. With some of the work behind us, and with the added knowledge of your appliances, the actual conversion will be simplified and the inconvenience caused you will be reduced materially. We realize that this first visit probably caused you some inconvenience, and we want to thank you for the wonderful cooperation which you gave us. Without it, the work could not have been carried on successfully and on schedule.

Some of the questions which were asked are probably in the minds of others, so that, we would like to answer some of the most common ones here.

- Q. When will Natural Gas be available?
A. According to present plans, Natural Gas will be available in May, 1952.
- Q. Is Natural Gas harmful?
A. Natural Gas contains no toxic elements but leaks of sufficient duration to deplete the supply of air can be harmful to people, plant and animal life. Also, like manufactured gas, Natural Gas must be used with certain precaution and any leakage of gas promptly stopped. If the warning smell of escaping gas is noticed, the Company should be notified at once, just as is the present practice. Like coal, oil, manufactured gas, or any other fuel, if Natural Gas is not burned properly the products of combustion can be harmful.
- Q. Will Natural Gas have an odor?
A. As Natural Gas is practically odorless, a chemical will be added which will give it a distinctive odor so that any leak will be easily noticeable.
- Q. What is meant by "conversion"?
A. In order to use Natural Gas it will be necessary to adjust every burner on every piece of gas-burning equipment. Most burners will require three adjustments: the ports (holes) in the burner must be drilled large; the opening which admits gas to the burner unit must be replaced with a smaller one; and the air intake must be increased.

Thank you again for your cooperation during this first step. We ask that it be continued through the final and most important step which is to come later. Before this is done, however, you will receive detailed information and instructions.

FIRST TRAFFIC FATALITY MARKED HERE THIS WEEK

Arlington's first traffic fatality of 1952 occurred last Saturday with the death of Robert Tomaino, 20, of 21 Mead Street, Cambridge. Tomaino, who died at Symmes Arlington Hospital, was a passenger in a Buick sedan registered to Louis Mathis, 19, of 59 Rindge Street, Cambridge. Mathis was driving the car when it went out of control while going west on Massachusetts Avenue at 5:04 a.m. January 13. Jumping the curb, it careened off a fire hydrant into an M.T.A. pole in front of 1189 Mass. Avenue, near Appleton Street. The two youths had to be extricated from the wreckage by Officers John Powers, R. Shea and Henry Bradley. Car 9 and the police ambulance rushed to the scene and took the boys to Symmes Hospital. Their parents were then notified of the accident.

From Symmes Hospital, Officer Thomas Pigott reported to Police Station that Tomaino was in critical condition. The car was wrecked and had to be towed from the scene.

At 7:15 a.m. last Saturday morning, January 19, Tomaino died as a result of a punctured left lung, multiple rib fractures and other internal injuries.

Mathis, who suffered multiple rib fractures and a concussion, is being held at Symmes, where his condition is reported as good, although it is expected that he will be in the hospital for some time.

It is understood that charges will be made against Mathis, who was operating the car at a high rate of speed at the time.

THE CALL THAT CURED A Broken Heart...

Johnny's cheeks were still wet with tears, but he was smiling as Spot's tail stirred in an attempted wag.

"He'll be good as new in 24 hours," the veterinarian said. "But it's a good thing you telephoned me as soon as you did."

Sometimes it's impossible to measure the value of a telephone call in dollars and cents. A single emergency call may be worth the cost of your telephone many times over. It may cure a broken heart... or save a human life.

Actually, the value of telephone service lies not so much in emergencies, as in everyday convenience. The convenience that brings the grocer, the druggist, the cleaner, the office, a friend, or a loved one as near as your telephone.

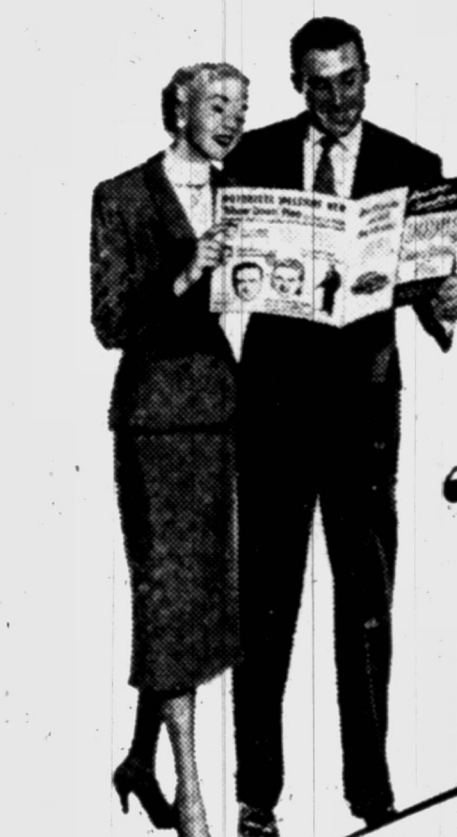

The NEW ENGLAND Telephone & Telegraph Company

A BIGGER VALUE THAN EVER

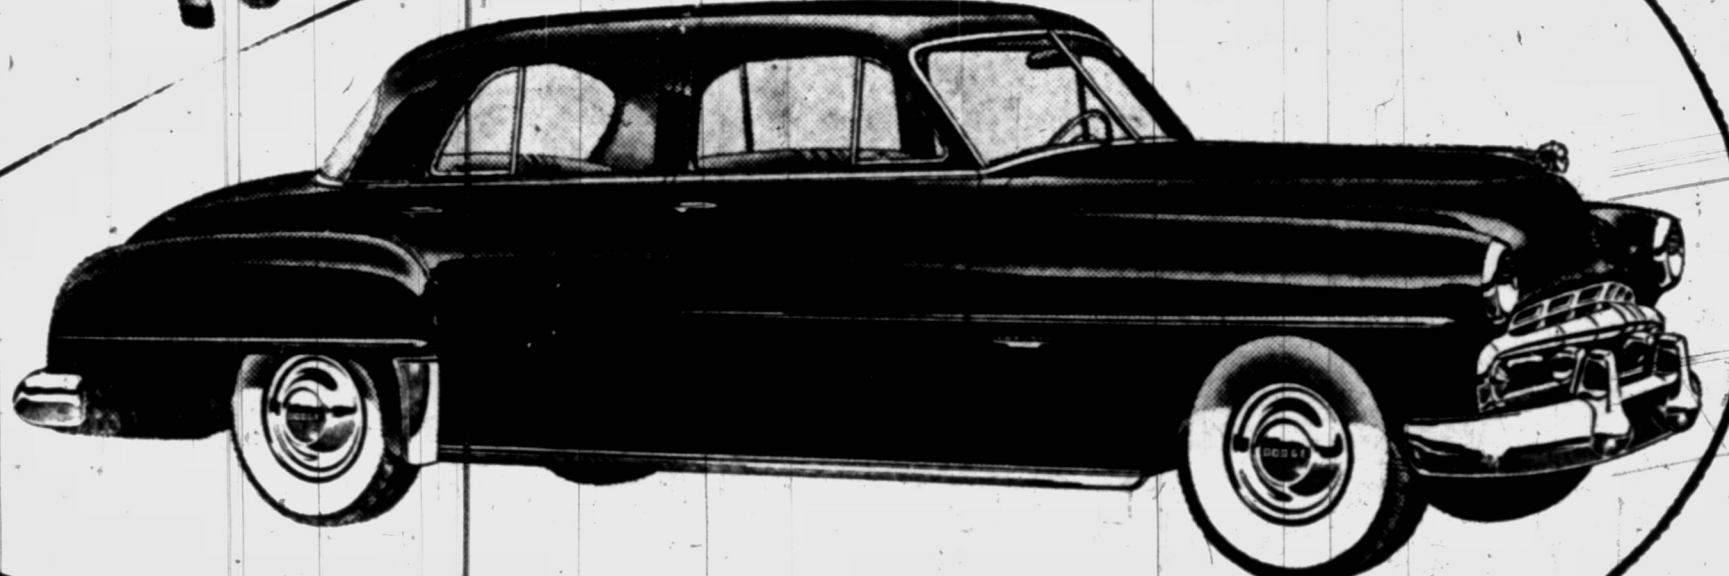

In relation to the high cost of most things you buy, the average telephone bill now takes a smaller part of the family budget than it did 10 years ago. What's more, service is better, faster, more efficient.

Some people who have applied for telephone service are still without it because we lack necessary equipment. To correct this situation is one of our major projects.

Some who do have service, however, are inclined to forget or overlook the telephone's real worth. It is only to such users that reference is made here to the value of telephone service.

A SCHOOL FOR YOU JURORS!

Men have long had the privilege of serving on juries, though not all of them have agreed it is a privilege. For a comparatively short time now, women have been drawn to judge their peers. But how many of us are prepared to listen intelligently to testimony, to follow the important issues and disregard the minor, to listen with human understanding, not with an ear for sensationalism?

The League of Women Voters of Arlington is doing Arlington a service in the School For Jurors which it is presenting next Wednesday evening. In providing such a school it is offering legal training of the best possible kind—a kind which people can see and experience themselves. One could read about juries every evening for a month, and not receive the lasting impression and the ingrained understanding he can get at the School For Jurors.

The News highly recommends this program to students. It hopes that teachers will find in it an opportunity for concrete example that is unavoidably lacking in classrooms. It hopes that men and women will attend and find in the program the answers to unsolved questions about civic duty.

There are those persons who know nothing of civic procedure and are happy in their ignorance, and they are sad examples of a democratic citizenry. There are others who realize how much fun it is to learn about and take part in the ways of freedom. They are the people who attend meetings when they'd rather stay comfortably at home, who make an effort to understand the problems of society, who accept positions of responsibility which nobody else wants. But they are alive! Be sure that you're alive, too. Attend the School For Jurors!

Weekly Newspaper Assn. Holds Regional Meeting

Accident - Assault Case Settled In East Cambridge Court Action

In a court settlement of an accident-assault case that occurred on New Year's eve, Malcolm Stevens of Melrose and Addison Sargent of Arlington were each fined $50.

The incident occurred at the corner of Pleasant Street and Concord Turnpike, with the Stevens car coming out from Boston and turning right into Pleasant Street, and the Sargent car, inbound on the turnpike, also turning into Pleasant Street. One car was hit and both drivers got out. A fracas immediately ensued, with one man receiving a hit on the head and the other being pinned to the ground until police aid arrived.

In a court action which has puzzled and undisclosed aspects, both men were fined $50 on a charge and counter-charge of assault and battery, Cambridge attorneys Skahan and Lowden represented Stevens and Sargent respectively. The trial was called before Judge Edward Dever, in Third Middlesex Court.

Railroads and Trucks

The truck companies make a profit on their business just as the railroads make a profit on the freight they carry. Railroads, however, build and maintain their private roads. Truck companies, on the other hand, have the use of the highways which all of us build and maintain.

I'm not suggesting the truckers build their own roads. I am, however, suggesting they carry their fair share of building and maintaining the roadbed they use. Perhaps a per-mile rate multiplied by tonnage might be an equitable basis. I know that a proposition of this sort will not appeal to the truckers. But I ask you, isn't it so often the abuse of privilege by a few which brings about regulation of all?

Advice to Truck Drivers

Many have noticed of late the increasing carelessness with which truckers drive. Almost any day between Boston and Hartford, for example, they roll along racing each other, two abreast so that the average motorist has to fight for his place on the road. More than once lately I've been scared out of my wits by trucks failing to stop at red lights simply because they were rolling so fast they couldn't stop! We used to look upon truck drivers as the most courteous on the road. If overloading and recklessness continue, the whole industry will suffer.

Truckers ought to try to regulate themselves before the state and federal governments step in. In fact, municipal governments may soon rule that truckers can use downtown streets only after 6:00 p.m. Eliminating trucks from congested areas will be the next step in solving the wretched traffic conditions of today.

In a surprise ending resulting from out-of-court action, the Kedian-Scalise-McCarthy case yesterday came to an end. All charges against Kedian and McCarthy were dropped, as were charges of assault and battery against Scalse. The News also is informed that a settlement of a sizeable amount paid by Officer Scalse, was included in the settlement.

The action, which began on the Friday before Christmas and involved charges of disturbing the peace, impersonating an officer, assault and battery with a dangerous weapon, and others, resulted in the temporary hospitalization of Mr. Kedian, a member of the Arlington Housing Authority, and the taking of 23 stitches in his head. The payment given Mr. Kedian was considerably more than the cost of medical treatment which he required.

On Monday of this week, Judge Gardner Russell of the East Cambridge Court, after hearing testimony by all principals in the case, brought in a finding in favor of Mr. Kedian. An application had been made by Kedian for a charge of assault and battery against the officer, but Judge Russell changed the charge to one of assault and battery with a dangerous weapon. He further allowed a charge of assault and battery to be placed against the officer by Francis McCarthy, Kedian's companion on the afternoon and evening of the fracas. Going still further, Judge Russell allowed Mr. McCarthy to withdraw his previous plea of guilty to drunkenness and enter a plea of not guilty. McCarthy revised his plea, and charges were entered by both men against Scalse.

The case was then transferred to the court room of Judge Louis Green, with further hearings set for yesterday, at which time the final act took place.

Letters To The Editor

(The following letter, sent to Chief of Police Bullock, was released to this paper for publication. It was written from the V. A. Hospital in West Roxbury.) Dear Chief,

I would like to repeat the compliments of the doctors at this hospital. They said when they set my bones after a recent accident in Arlington, "This man received unusually good police care after his accident. His recovery will be definitely speeded by the fact that he was handled intelligently all along the line."

I know this commendation is typical of the kind frequently received by your well-run department, but I thought it important to pass along their words of praise so that the officers involved would know that their efforts were appreciated.

I would particularly like to thank Officer Smith who came upon the accident, summoned the doctor and called for the ambulance. It is policemen like him that make many of us glad that we live in Arlington. I would also like to thank Officers Taylor and Keating who responded to his call and rushed me to the Symmes Hospital.

I would also like to thank Sergeant Sullivan who investigated the accident, co-operating completely with the doctors who were treating my injuries.

Respectfully,
JOHN H. O'BRIEN,

Several Bible stories which illustrate the inevitable victory which comes from obeying God will be included in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Truth" which will be read at Christian Science Services this Sunday.

That glory for all good belongs to God, illustrated by the following verse, is another theme in the Lesson-Sermon. "And the Lord said unto Gideon, The people that are with thee are too many for me to give the Midianites into their hands, lest Israel vaunt themselves against me, saying, Mine own hand hath saved me." (Judges 7:2).

"Pride and fear are unfit to bear the standard of Truth, and God will never place it in such hands." is a correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, also included in the Lesson-Sermon. The Golden Text is from John 8:31,32. "Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

The Aristocrat of Casseroles in Scintillating Buenilum

The beauty of this lustrous hammered aluminum casserole is self-evident . . . but the beauty of its practicality is equally a joy. Conceal your favorite dish and cook it in the pyrex liner, then serve it in triumph, because this casserole was made to grace the finest table.

Use it for the most formal of dinners or use it every day, no cleaning or polishing problem rears its head . . . a dip in soapy water and Buenilum is as lustrously beautiful as ever. The capacity is a generous full two quarts and the price is generous to your pocketbook as well.

This seal appears on every Buenilum piece — it is your guarantee of quality.

New Courses Tell of Stars, Space Travel, Cosmic Rays

Resuming its astronomy lectures this month, the Museum of Science will underline the vital connection between ancient concepts and modern science.

From astronomy has come the reckoning of time and tide, seasons of the year and measurements of distance. Development of the atomic bomb also leaned on this oldest of sciences which now promises to reveal answers to many of the problems on future space travel.

Two informal courses at the Museum will be open to the general public as well as Museum members. One will include an examination of the possibility and problems of space travel as related to astronomy, and an advanced course entitled "Highlights of Modern Astronomy" will discuss the effects of cosmic rays, the use of radio and radar astronomy, ages of the stars and the "Expanding Universe."

Charles A. Federer, Jr., director of the museum's planetarium and editor of "Sky and Telescope," will lead the second section for folks already familiar with fundamentals. Fifteen weekly meetings will be held on Tuesday evenings from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m.

John Patterson, familiar lecturer in the museum's "little planetarium" and editor of the popular monthly Skymap, will repeat the ten-week course for beginners which was over-subscribed last fall. Those with little or no knowledge of astronomy are invited to join this section.

Beginners will meet on Thursday evenings from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m., at Science Park. Copies of the new Corporal Fernando Perez, bugler at Camp Edwards, had top ranking officers stumped recently as they listened to a series of bugle calls which were not "in the book." They came before the customary "Call to the Colors." Asked by the Camp Adjutant, Roy B. Maurer, Perez said, "Sir, I had a few minutes before the call so I warmed my bugle up a bit with a few bugle calls I learned back in Puerto Rico."

Keenan Offers Savings On Insurance Costs

In these days of rising insurance costs, the office of Henry E. Keenan & Co. points to savings of up to twenty per cent on all forms of insurance. Each person's insurance requirements differ and have to be analyzed individually to determine their needs and costs, Mr. Keenan stated.

It is generally known that most people are underinsured at today's replacement prices, and their insurance protection program should be carefully reviewed from time to time to meet rapid "changing conditions," he said.

The Keenan office will gladly make this analysis based on twenty-eight years of insurance experience, free of charge, and advise as to possible savings in one's yearly insurance costs.

Birth Control Petition To Be Filed By League

An initiative petition to amend the Massachusetts birth control law which now prevents doctors from giving birth control advice to married persons will be filed next year by the Planned Parenthood League of Massachusetts as result of a vote taken by its board of directors. It was announced this week by Dr. Florence Clothier of Milton, president.

"When threatening world population pressures and the denial of human and civil rights in many parts of the world are of increasing concern," Dr. Clothier said in hailing the move, "it seems imperative to put our own house in order."

The League, she added, "will never stop fighting to put Massachusetts back into the United States" (Massachusetts and Connecticut are the only two states in the country where birth control is illegal.) "The law now on the statute books violates the freedom to obey the dictates of conscience which democracy seeks to assure. It forbids denies many parents and physicians the right to follow their own beliefs."

The amendment sought by the Planned Parenthood League, she said, "would permit, not oblige, contraceptive care to married persons. Passage of such a law is consistent with our democratic belief in freedom of conscience for all religious groups, with coercion of none. Our ideal of responsible parenthood can be appreciably advanced by means of such a law."

In a previous attempt to change the law in 1947, the League filed a total of 80,230 certified signatures on an initiative petition — the largest number of signatures ever presented on any such petition in Massachusetts—but the Legislature defeated the measure in May, 1948.

The forthcoming initiative petition is planned for the summer of 1953, for presentation to the 1954 legislative session. If it is rejected by the General Court, it will then be placed on the 1954 ballot.

A social hour followed the talk, with refreshments served by Mrs. Ronsen McCall and committee.

PEIRCE SCHOOL

The monthly meeting of the Peirce School PTA was held in the auditorium on Jan. 17 at 8 p.m. Mrs. Richard Rice presided and gave a brief New Year's message for parents and friends. After the business discussion the meeting was turned over to Mrs. John Killowsky, who introduced Dr. Volta Hall, assistant psychiatrist of Mass. General Hospital, speaker of the evening.

A social hour followed the talk, with refreshments served by Mrs. Ronsen McCall and committee.

Saturday Morning Art Grows In Popularity

Art School registration time is here again, and Saturday, January 26th is the date of the start of the second session at Menotomy School of Art. The school has just completed twenty weeks of art lessons with a record enrollment of 212 students. Menotomy School of Art was begun only six years ago by the Arlington P.T.A. Council for the purpose of giving children the opportunity to develop their creative abilities. It was patterned after a school started in Austria following the first World War, a school highly thought of in progressive art circles. Unfortunately World War II spelled the end of that school for young people in Austria, but Arlington caught up the torch and has been carrying on with the idea. The fact that the school has more than doubled in attendance has proven the value and the need of this type of artistic endeavor.

Classes start at the second grade level and go to junior high level. A class in clay sculpture has been added to give children a new medium for expression. Mr. Carney, Junior High East art teacher, is in charge of this class.

The primary objectives of the Art school are: 1—To sustain the child's natural interest in art. 2—To develop creative ability. 3—To improve technical ability in handling media. 4—To provide knowledge that will improve the child's own creations. 5—To add to knowledge and skills taught in public schools by introducing new media and techniques.

The school is open to any child having enough interest in art to attend school on Saturday mornings, and new students are welcome to attend the second semester as well as those who wish to re-register. Classes are held from 9:30-11:30 a.m. at the Industrial Arts School (old Junior High Center) on Academy St. in back of Town Hall. "No school" on bad days will be announced over station WHDH at 8:00 and 9:00. Lessons will be made up at the end of the session. Registration will be at 9:30 Saturday, January 26. There is a small fee to cover expenses of the project, though the school is run on a non-profit basis by the P.T.A. Council. An exhibition of the children's work will be held at a later date.

Boys Town Project Backed By Jr. C of C

The Massachusetts Junior Chamber of Commerce, representing 1,000 businessmen throughout the Commonwealth, has voted at a special directors' meeting to adopt as their 1952 resolution, to give wholehearted support to and to assist in policies and procedure of Boys Town of Massachusetts.

State officers of the Junior Chamber and directors of its 21 local chapters attended the meeting held in a New Bedford hotel. Based on the unanimous approval of the sub-committee report issued earlier, the Boys Town project was adopted by the State organization, it was officially announced.

Atty. Harold Hurwitz, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, said "the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce had resolved that the welfare of youth was one of the most important programs that could be undertaken by Jaycees throughout the country. The field of youth welfare embraces any program that leads to the development and well-being of American youth. That is why Massachusetts Jaycees are interested in Boys Town and feel that it is one of the biggest steps in this direction. Boys Town is compatible with Junior Chamber's ideals of fellowship, brotherhood, and understanding."

Meanwhile, Fred Amershadian of Watertown, founder and executive director of Boys Town of Massachusetts, outlined the ground-work laid by the Boys Town "Committee of Twelve" for the purchase of Gold Bricks and revealed that 125,000 direct appeals already have been made to individuals and manufacturers in every community in Massachusetts.

During the past three months special care was taken not to conflict with Red Feather drives in any area. A general plan of call-backs begin on January 5 and will continue until the goal is reached. The effort is being headed by Harold E. Randall, vice-president and controller of the First National Bank of Boston, who has accepted the State chairmanship of the 1952 Capital Funds Committee of the Boys Town project.

"High corporation taxes encourage wasteful spending. When a company must pay more than half of every profit dollar to the government, the incentive to keep operating expenses down is correspondingly reduced."—Boston Herald.

Improvements Asked By Representative

At a public hearing held at 100 Nashua Street, Boston Monday, January 21, Representative Keenan renewed his requests for the speed zoning of Summer Street Boulevard, Route 2A in Arlington. Since this roadway was resurfaced and widened many complaints have been made about excessive speeding, and Keenan has requested that it be speed zoned. He also has asked Commissioner William F. Callahan that traffic-control lights be installed at the junction of Park Avenue Extension and Summer Street Boulevard and at Forest Square and on Summer Street Boulevard.

Keenan also requested of Commissioner Callahan that sidewalks be built along Summer Street Boulevard and Forest Street playground and from Park Avenue Extension along Summer Street to Arthur Street. Those improvements were called for in 1949 at the joint request of Keenan, former selectman Joseph Peterson, and former chairman of public works John L. Murphy of Arlington. The state set aside some $11,000, and the town meeting of Arlington voted to set aside $11,000 to match the state money.

Local Mile Of Dimes To Aid Polio Victims

A mammoth Mile Of Dimes will be held in Arlington Center on Saturday afternoon. Sponsored by the Boys' Club, it promises to be a most unusual event. The plan is this:

Two polio victims in wheel chairs will be placed back to back on a Massachusetts Avenue sidewalk, one facing toward Mystic Street and the other toward Medford Street. As passersby place dimes on the sidewalk in front of the wheelchairs, the two lads will wheel their chairs along, gradually reaching the Medford-Mystic St. corners. The St. James Drum and Bugle Corps will provide music during the afternoon.

All are invited to stop and help the two lads along their path to recovery.
